

Gustavo Cardoso

Biographical note

Full Professor of Communication Sciences at ISCTE-IUL, associate researcher at CADIS (Centre d'Analyse et d'Interventions Sociologiques) and at the Collège d'Études Mondiales at FMSH in Paris. Member of CIES-IUL and Director of OberCom - Communication Observatory in Lisbon, he was also visiting Professor at the IN3 in Barcelona. He is currently directing the PhD in Communication Sciences, the MSc in New Media Management and the ISCTE-IUL Postgraduate in Journalism.

Still at ISCTE-IUL, he coordinates the Communication Science Laboratory, the News Barometer and the Portuguese participation in the European Journalism Observatory.

From 1996 to 2006, he was a consultant to the Civil Service of the Presidency of the Portuguese Republic for the Information Society and Telecommunications. From 2006-2012 he was non-executive Vice-President of the Board of Directors of Lusa News Agency. He is a weekly commentator for TVI24 with the Augmented Reality rubric.

Graduated in ISCTE in Organization and Management of Companies, he obtained in 1996 the masters in European Studies of the Department of Sociology, doctorate in Sciences of the Communication in 2005 and in 2009 he got a graduation in Global Leadership of Harvard Kennedy School.

Title

Society in Change: Heritage, Technology and Knowledge Networks