

Graça Filipe

Biographical note

Graduate in History (Faculty of Letters UL 1980), Master in Museology and Heritage (FCSH-UNL 2001) and postgraduate in Social Museology (Autonomous University of Lisbon 1991).

She is a senior technician at the Seixal City Hall - Cultural and Heritage Division, at the Seixal Municipal Ecomuseum, where she was the technician and director from 1989 to 2009.

She is a researcher at the Institute of Contemporary History - NOVA FCSH.

Since 2007 she has been teaching in the Master's degree in Museology at FCSH-Universidade Nova de Lisboa (seminar on Museological Planning and Programming).

She worked in the Municipality of Tomar between 2014 and 2015, in the rehabilitation project and in the musealization program of the heritage complex of Levada de Tomar, which had previously been associated as a consultant (2004-2011).

She was deputy director of the Institute of Museums and Conservation between 2009 and 2011.